DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claims 1-23 and 50-61 are drawn to a population of microcapsules with variable internal volumes.

Group II, claims 24-42 are drawn to a method of forming a population of microcapsules.

Group III, claims 43-49 are drawn to a drop-forming apparatus.

The inventions listed as Groups I, and II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack unity of invention a posteriori for the following reasons: the common technical feature in both groups is the population of microcapsules with variable internal volumes. This population of microcapsules cannot be a special technical feature under PCT Rule 13.2 because the element is shown in prior art. Ipponmatsu et al. (US 5,376,347) teaches inorganic microspheres with a particle size of 0.01 to 500  $\mu\text{m}$  and a narrow size distribution of less than 10% (see col. 4, lines 21-27; col. 4, lines 62-68).

The inventions listed as Groups I and III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack unity a priori as there is no technical feature common to these claims.

The inventions listed as Groups II and III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack unity a priori as there is no technical feature common to these claims.

A telephone call was made to Attorney Chang Sik Kim on 2/17/2010 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144.

If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable upon the elected invention.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.
